Dear Family and Friends - Spring is in the air! That's the rumor anyway. Still waiting for that break of warm air, hot sun and NO WIND. (other than a great day on St. Patrick's Day. We know it's coming, and soon we'll be complaining about the heat. I saw some diehard snowmobilers last month that had to be riding on 50% dirt and ice, but true to the end. Unfortunately, and a bit too late, we just received 3-4" and then another 7+".

The April Reminiscing section brings you, the Windsor. Formerly known as Marie's Laker Lounge, Danny's Laker Lounge, The Swiss Chalet (Ron & Natalie Place), the Swiss Chalet (Herman & Trudy Dittmer), The Country Store and the original Barnes Town Hall. Enjoyed tons of great visiting last month gathering information and pictures, and such a great way to reconnect with so many that I knew growing up, and a couple that I didn't. Those of you who have known the owners and patronized their businesses over the years will surely have your own stories come to mind, and we welcome any of them if you would like to share. It was SO much fun chatting with old friends about what we could remember, what we couldn't remember and what we didn't want to remember! Every time we thought of one story it would bring up another one, and then another. It's amazing how much you remember, but shocking as to how much you don't or never knew. I think about what I should have already known, but when you're younger you don't pay much attention to history. Our lives are a book that we need to bind.

Make the time to sit down with folks that hold this information as there is just too much contradiction when you get it off the internet, etc. It's easy. Jjust grab a cup of coffee and a chair on the deck, make a nice quiche or coffee cake and have a chat with older family members and friends. With computers and tape recorders, it's not a lot of effort to jot things down. Not only are these folks a wealth of knowledge, they are "history treasurers." I hope you enjoy this months article.

Happy Easter. Let us rejoice in our Lord and celebrate this season with family and friends in his love.

He arose on this day with promise that we would join him in His kingdom.

May God Bless and Keep you. Julie San

Town of Barnes Residents

It's time to vote – Tuesday April 3rd

I am requesting your vote for Town Supervisor.

I have enjoyed serving you the people of Barnes and in the process have learned a few things along the way; I hope to continue to do so over the next two years.

Barnes is a great place to serve, live, visit and enjoy the great outdoors.

There are exciting things happening here in Barnes requiring decisions with your best interest in mind—The Lake Road Project, Tomahawk Lake Park and Trails, Fire and Ambulance Vehicles and Building, Salt Shed, Emergency Services, Water Ways and more.

I have, and will continue to work on Town committees supporting these efforts.

Thank you for your vote on April 3rd.

With Best Regards, Tom Emerson

Shhhhh...IT'S STILL A MYSTERY!!

Our "special guest" is still scheduled to arrive in Barnes sometime this spring or summer, at which time a grand Homecoming Party will be held in his honor.

CAN YOU GUESS WHO'S COMING TO BARNES ?

We have a correct guess! Let's see how many we can get!

Clue # 6: FINAL CLUE

Although he is still considering his final plans, he has confirmed that he will arrive in Barnes sometime during the 2018 summer season.

Clue # 5: "Although he was severely injured in a hunting accident a number of years ago, incredible efforts have been made over the years to help him return to Barnes."

Clue # 4: No need to hunt for it.

Clue # 3: He has always been known for having rather amazing headwear.

Clue # 2: He still has a number of relatives in the area.

Clue # 1: He last visited our area back in 2005.

Send your guesses to: barnesnotesandnews@gmail.com

CLEAN BOATS - CLEAN WATERS

Boaters, as we start another boating/fishing season I'd like to remind everyone to put your plug in the boat before launching.

Please remember to check for weeds and remove any vegetation, and drain all water from live wells, bilges and motors as you leave the landing. If you regularly fish a certain spot and notice strange vegetation that has never been there before, I urge you to tell a landing monitor or give me a call.

Please be on the lookout for Yellow Iris in the local streams, ponds and lakeshores. If you see any, please report it. Yellow Iris are becoming a problem. They like the shallow marshy areas of along streambeds and will choke out native species and clog the waterways. If you are not sure this is what you see, take a picture to show to a landing monitor or to send to me.

If you have some time and want to contribute volunteer hours, please consider spending a couple hours at a boat landing.

Hours include weekdays, not just weekends.

Boat Monitor training will be on May 4th at the Barnes Town Hall at 12.00.

Thank you for your efforts and support to keep our lakes clean.

THE PET CORNER.

WARMER WEATHER IS COMING AND SO ARE THE BUGS!

Make sure you've got your pets on Front Line, etc. as the ticks, fleas, mosquitos, and flies will soon be waking up. It seems they come out in full force the minute the snow starts melting. This year is no different than any other so please be sure your pets shots are up to date, that their license is current and rabies tag is on their collar. Check the Town of Barnes leash and public area laws to keep your dog safe.

KEEP YOUR VET'S NUMBER HANDY AT ALL TIMES.

Winter doesn't always kill those pesky things:

- Mosquitoes have adapted to survive in all climates, including the arctic.
- Adult fleas survive winter indoors, where they continue to infest your pet
- Ticks can survive temperatures below 43* and become active when temps rise
- Sand flies can survive winter in a dormant state in animal burrows, deep cracks in walls and dark corners indoors.
- Mites can survive winter by continuing to feed on your dog
- Long-haired dogs provide an ideal winter home for • chewing and sucking lice.

BRIAN J. HODOWANIC

January 18, 1954 to March 11, 2018

Brian J. Hodowanic, 64, passed away peacefully after a courageous battle with cancer on Sunday, March 11, 2018 at his residence in Barnes, Wisconsin. He completed several FBI sponsored courses and state police courses and graduated from the FBI Academy at Quantico, Va. Also thank you to the Visiting Angels (Haleigh) that came to help us at home, neighbors, Mike and Tracy Sabelko, and Dick Olson for picking Corky up every morning for coffee with the gang at Burger King.

There will be visitation from noon until the time of the service on Saturday at the funeral home. Masonic services will be conducted by Menomonie Lodge 164. APRIL REMINISCING - The Windsor; Marie's Laker Lounge, Danny's Laker Lounge; The Swiss Chalet; The Country Store and what's thought to be the original town hall.

As most of you know, the Windsor has had many faces over the years. When I sat with the various owners to gather stories I was reminded of customers names I'd not heard of in decades! Growing up here, I knew most of them, but the years erased so many and unfortunately, we have lost most of them. I hope you enjoy reminiscing about when you last visited this building and who owned it at that particular time.

The BEGINNING:

The building which is now known as the Windsor, carries a couple of theories. One, it's believed to have been the first town hall built in 1906. At that time, it was located at the junction of Barnes Road and Ellison Lake Road. Around 1932 Stanley Barnes and his wife Gretchen purchased the property. There were several buildings, but that particular building would be used as a tavern/pool hall, with gas and a store. I'm told that there is a sign at the old location "marking the spot." You can still see the original foundation. Stanley and Gretchen would eventually serve hamburgers, malts, etc.

Next, "THE COUNTRY STORE": Stanley and Gretchen Barnes

In the early 1950's, Gretchen and Stan would decide to move the building from Barnes Road and Ellision Lake Road to where it stands today at Lake Road and Outlet Bay Road. They would name it The Country Store.

It was a smaller building at the time and I'm told the whole town turned out to see the move. Once moved, it took some time to get it squared away, but would still be run as a tavern, with gas pumps out front.

The store would be started at the new location roughly three years after the move. From the time they opened the store people from Superior and Duluth would come down for Gretchen's "beef burgers." She was an artist and drew a picture of a bull with a ring in it's mouth just "snortin", and printed the words "our burgers are all beef, and that's no bull." They also had chili and soup. It also served as a residence as it had at the old location.

There was no plumbing in the building until it was moved to Lake Road and Outlet Bay Road.

In 1959/1960 Stan and Gretchen sold the business to Herman and Trudy Dittmer and "The Country Store" would soon be know as "The Swiss Chalet".

Then on to "The Swiss Chalet" - Herman & Trudy Dittmer

In gathering information for the Swiss Chalet, it was so great to catch up with Herman and Trudy's daughter Irene Drallmier. Trudy and Herman came to the U.S. from Switzerland in 1947 through Ellis Island, with daughter Irene, an Uncle and his wife.

I wasn't old enough to ever visit the Swiss Chalet when the Dittmer's owned it, but growing up just down the road I had plenty of time with the family. Herman and Trudy purchased "The Country Store" from Stanley and Gretchen Barnes in 1959/1960, continuing it as a store for a short time. By 1963 it was in full swing as the "Swiss Chalet". Herman and Trudy moved to Barnes from Verona, WI to start the supper club. Herman had been a contractor by trade so was quite handy with what needed to be done.

Trudy and Jean Barker cooked together and when Herman decided bartending really wasn't his thing, Trudy then tended bar and Jean would take over the cooking.

Irene and her brother Fritz worked the restaurant for a short time, and within A few years, Fritz would decide he had other plans.

So much history, and so little space.

And again "The Swiss Chalet" - Ron and Natalie Place

Place's Swiss Chalet was owned and operated by Ron and Natalie Place and children: Susan, Sara and Billy. The family moved to Barnes from Rockford, IL. Natalie handled the kitchen and Ron served as bartender. The kids filled in the blanks and helped out wherever they were needed. After leaving the supper club business, the Places built a home on Wallman Road and continued to be a part of the Barnes community. Ron was an avid euchre and pool player and Natalie helped to establish the Barnes EMS program, and was one of our first EMTs. The kids graduated from Drummond High School and currently live in cities around the Midwest.

A few of us gathered in March to catch up on old stories (goodness gracious the stories! and look at pictures from days gone by. So many locals enjoyed time spent with Danny, his mom & dad Walt and Doris Drinkwine, as well as seasonal folks, the list goes on forever. So many of us who grew up here and would be here during the summer worked at Danny's. I didn't have the pleasure until the summer I graduated high school, but we could have a reunion of workers and fill up the whole place.

Danny's objective was to keep the quality of the food at the highest." He did all his own cooking, purchasing the highest quality of meat and other products which were a major factor in his ability to achieve that objective. At age 10. Dan went to work for Herman and Trudy Dittmer, owners of the Swiss Chalet, He washed dishes, worked as a bus boy, and helped make salads.

When he was 12 he began doing some fry cooking for the Dittmer's in addition to the chores he was already doing. Dan attended cooking school in 1972-73 at WITI in Ashland. During that time, he gained on the job training at the Frontier Supper Club.

After serving in the Army for 3 years, Dan began looking for a restaurant to purchased. He decided he liked Barnes and wanted to stay there. In 1976, Dan's dream came true and he greeted customer in the building in which he had gotten his first taste of restaurant work.

Naming his business "Danny's Laker Lounge" his personal touch came soon after. Part of the building was the Barnes Tavern, thought to be the original town hall.

Dan's parent s played a huge part in supporting him and his new adventure. His mother, Doris Drinkwine, tended bar for about 4 years. Dan's dad, Walt Drinkwine, built the bars, both front and back, the cooler and the salad bar.

Sitting with Dan, he recalled the storm of the 4th of July, 1983 when the restaurant lost power. While trying to keep going, Danny and crew hung lanterns and after, the customers noted that they "had no idea the power was out." Dan served 250 customers that night, with no power !!

Dan would cater bowling banquet and Christmas parties, would also showcase his specialties of delicious ribs, steaks and seafood. Take a look at the prices back in the 1970's compared to the prices in the 1960's. What a difference between places today. Can you imagine getting a thick steak with all the fixins' for $5 or $10 now? WOW.

Dan served as President of the Eau Claire Lakes Business Association, belonged to the Barnes Lions Club, and was on the Board of Directors of the Wisconsin Restaurant Association, Vacationland Chapter.

Right: Danny at the front door that went directly into the dining room.

On to: MARIE'S LAKER LOUNGE - I never had the chance to experience the restaurant when Ron and Marie Feirtag had the restaurant. They purchased the building in 1993 and right away started renovating and updating the building to make it their own. By December of 1993, they were ready to open their doors.

They painted the building white and then soon would add the new siding. Marie mentioned "Ron thought the place had potential" and it definitely paid off.

Marie remembered a lot of laughs and meeting new people from all walks of life making their lives very interesting. As with previous owners, many would come from afar. They made a lot of good friends over 15 years, but decided it was time to move on and sold the business in 2008.

And finally.....we make it to the WINDSOR!

Nancy Lindberg purchased the business from Marie and Ron on October 1, 2008. You will remember Nancy's great friend Bob Tuttle playing the keyboards and singing the old time tunes that you could sing along with and dance to. I remember when I first starting going to Bingo Bango, I would take a family friend with Alzheimer's over to enjoy the music and play bango (she won several times!). Even though she couldn't always remember the words, she would sing along with every song he would play inbetween games. Bob and his music are truly missed, and I'm sure you all have your own stories to share.

Nancy's brother Bob will make you a cocktail worth relaxing over, while Nancy's rockin' and rollin' in the kitchen. Also, on Friday's and Saturday's you will most likely be greeted with a smiling face by "Gramma" Jean to seat you.

The folks frequently seen at the Windsor are from both near and afar. Nancy has regulars from Superior, Hayward, Eau Claire, Minneapolis, Menominee, Wheeler and more. Like many of the establishments in town, It's like having our own little "Cheers".

If you haven't attended the "Windsor Olympics, Disco Nights, Customer Appreciation, Sunday Funday or other events you'll find here, you must add it to your calendar. Keep an eye open for dates and times of coming events throughout the year.

Barnes' Own Gordon MacQuarrie's Duck Hunting Stories Brought To The Stage in "Ducks? You Bat You" in Milwaukee

By Ted Eastlund

On Friday, March 9th, the world premiere of Ducks?, You Bat You thrilled the audience at the Annual Milwaukee Journal Sentinel Sports Show. The newly-written thirty-minute play brought the literature of Barnes' own nationally-known Gordon MacQuarrie to life in the play's first performance.

A group of actors, amateur and professional, performed roles in Ducks? You Bat You, a play derived from a story originally written by MacQuarrie with the same title about his first duck hunt with his father-in-law in 1927 at Little Bass Lake in Burnett County. It is about characters in MacQuarrie's fictional Old Duck Hunters' Association, Inc. His father-in-law, Al Peck, who gave MacQuarrie his first lesson in duck hunting is portrayed in many of MacQuarrie's stories as the fictional Hizzoner, the President of the ODHA. The ODHA had its headquarters on Middle Eau Claire Lake, at Gordon MacQuarrie's cabin. MacQuarrie's first duck hunting experience, described vividly in Ducks? You Bat You, In the Presence of Mine Enemies and the March 1940 Outdoor Life story How to Freeze to Death cemented MacQuarrie's well-known writing career about duck hunting.

Collection of MacQuarrie's stories published in 1998 by Zach Taylor. After publishing a book of 19 MacQuarrie stories in 1979 there was a wide outpouring of requests for Taylor to publish more. This Treasury compiles his next three books of stories.

The stage presentation of "Ducks? You Bat You!" in Milwaukee was the creative idea of Bryan Muche of Barrington Hills, Illinois, and the host of the large Old Duck Hunters exhibit at the Sports Show.

In 2016, Muche came to Barnes to attend the first of what has become an annual Gordon MacQuarrie Pilgrimage and Tour first put on by Dave Thorson. Muche has been promoting MacQuarrie's stories and the excellent MacQuarrie Exhibit at the Barnes Area Historical Museum ever since.

According to Paul A. Smith, Outdoors Editor of the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel, Muche is a native of southern Wisconsin and an avid duck hunter. Muche was first introduced to MacQuarrie's stories in books he found on his grandfather's book shelves. Muche was quoted in an article by Smith.. "He's got these colorful characters and he paints the landscape with his words. I think a performance of one of his stories at the Sports Show is a natural."

According to Smith, the stage props of the play about MacQuarrie's story included a 1927 Underwood typewriter, a pipe, duck decoys and a car that transforms into a bed and a duck blind.

The stage performance included actor Steve Koehler as Gordon MacQuarrie, playwright and narrator; Alan Atwood as Mr. President; John Pfannerstill as Fred; Tiersa Ferraro as Mr. President's daughter; PBS TV's Wisconsin Outdoors host Dan Small as Norm; Mike Landers as Gus; and Muche as the younger MacQuarrie.

"The key is the script and the narration," Muche told Smith. "It has some human element, but MacQuarrie's words are what makes it all fly."

MacQuarrie, was born and raised in Superior and since his early teens spent summers on Middle Eau Claire Lake at a cabin built by his father, a Superior Public Schools carpenter. His first visit with his father to where his cabin would be built required walking 14 miles from the train station at Gordon.

Many of MacQuarrie's duck hunting stories were written at his cabin. He often included stories that were about friends and work colleagues who had cabins next to his, including the Tierney, Skamser and Stewart families who still summer in the same cabins. MacQuarrie worked for the Superior Telegram until being recruited by The Milwaukee Journal to become its first outdoors editor in 1936 where he worked until he died in 1956 at age 56 of a heart attack.

In addition to his newspaper column work, MacQuarrie became widely-known for his duck hunting and fly fishing stories published in national magazines such as Field & Stream and Sports Afield that were decades later published in book form.

"He was able to articulate how rich and complex the hunting experience is," Muche said to Smith. "I think that's a huge legacy he left behind". In addition to the play, Muche arranged that actor Koehler gave a reading of "Ducks? You Bat You" the following Sunday.

The public was also able to view the history of duck hunting, large pictures and biographical details of MacQuarrie and a mockup of his office, at Bryan Muche's Old Duck Hunters exhibit, booth 1730. The exhibit also calls attention to the extensive MacQuarrie Exhibit at the Barnes Area Historical Museum.

A Weather Note: Snow, Snow and Snow. We had a great day on St. Patrick's Day. Then the rumor of snow, which we got a couple inches. Then, the rumor of 5-10 " and we got about 3". Then not only do we not want that, we just got another 7"+ inches on March 30th. Enough snow, we need sun, and warm ,and dry decks to relax on.

With that said, I'm told we are to have another storm come through, but I never believe it until I see it. Well, I'M TIRED OF SEEING IT. The temperature hasn't been too bad through it all, but I did notice a good drop to "cold". Easter Bunny better have his extra fuzzy tail on. Stay Warm Folks.

Medicare 101

Beginning in January 2018, the Bayfield County Elder Benefits Specialist, Sheila Mack, will be providing "Medicare 101" presentations once per month, January through September, throughout Bayfield County. These presentations will introduce you to the basics of Medicare and give you the information you need to know before making any decisions about whether you want to enroll in all parts of Medicare at age 65, some parts of Medicare, or none of them; and the possible consequences of not enrolling when you are first eligible to enroll. You will also learn about the three types of insurance that supplement Medicare because Medicare only pays 80% of hospital and medical costs, and the need for creditable prescription drug coverage either through Medicare Part D or Wisconsin SeniorCare.

If you will be turning 65 this year, attending one of these trainings is strongly encouraged. The time available for the Elder Benefit Specialist to work with you in the office is becoming more and more limited due to the increase in assistance being requested. To provide prompt and efficient service to as many clients as possible, this presentation will provide basic information on Medicare in a group setting rather than one on one in the Elder Benefit Specialist office. This training will give you enough information to understand your options and be ready to make decisions when it is time to do so.

Below is a list of the dates and towns/cities that Medicare 101 presentations will be offered. All presentations will start at 6:00 pm and last up to 2 hours, depending upon the information reviewed and questions asked by those attending the presentation. If you plan to attend, please register by the day before the presentation is held, by calling Karen Bodin at 715-373-6144, ext.115. Registration is necessary to prepare enough materials for everyone who attends.

Another recent addition was the 50/50 raffle. The main attraction for Winterfest was the Big Ca$h Raffle. Listed above this article is a copy of those lucky winners.

There was lots of good food. George Martin provided the brats, hotdogs and buns. George also did the grilling. Thanks so much, George. Karen Sandmon was such a help in the kitchen, too. Thanks, Karen.

Tim Behling acted as general coordinator and Master of Ceremonies. He comes every Winterfest from his home in Menomonee Falls. WI to help out. BAHA sure appreciates his time and efforts. Thanks, Tim. Larry Bergman, John Amend and Sally Pease took care of the silent auction payment collection and other sales. Larry headed up the sales and general finances for the event, a big job for sure.

So many other members contributed their efforts, too. Among them were Steve and Catherine Lynch (Selling tickets and distributing door prizes and Bingo prizes, etc.);

Fritz Barnes for selling the meat raffle tickets at the table: Vern and Barb Wilcox (ticket sales and calling Bingo); Donna Porter, our pleasant door greeter and sign-in lady; Ariel Amend with her ever present camera (thanks for the great pictures!) and Mike and Sam Frelichowski of the VFW for managing the busy bar (great job, Mike and Sam!). There were so many others who helped out that we can't mention all them, but many thanks to all of them. A BIG thanks to all who bought and sold raffle tickets. This is our main fund raiser and without everyone's help, it wouldn't be the success that it was. A very HUGE thank you to Julie Sarkauskas and the Barnes Notes and News for all of her help and publicity.

BAHA WINTERFEST 2018

The Barnes Area Historical Association. Inc. (BAHA) had another very successful Winterfest on March 3rd. It was a beautiful day with temperatures in the upper 30's and no new snow. There was plenty of that for the snowmobilers and skiers.

Some of the many silent auction items available.

We had lots of activities going on over the course of the afternoon. Among them was the Silent Auction. There were many silent auction items at prices for everyone. It seems that many got some great items for next Christmas.

Every half hour we picked four door prize

winners. We received many great donations

from area businesses and people. Thanks so very much to all of you!

Something new in the past few years is our special meat raffle.

For a dollar a ticket.

The Bingo players had a ball. Some of our regular people from Ashland came to play and support the event. Thanks so much. Hope all had fun!

We had a lot of wonderful door prizes.

win not only meat, but a huge box of food items to go along with the meat. We had eight meat raffles for Winterfest.

GOOD EATS - RECIPES

THE SPICE CORNER: Spring Herbs

The first herbs of Spring contain fresh nutrients that were once unavailable in the winter diet. Many winter diets were comprised of the foods from the fall harvest that could be stored in root cellars, canned, pickled or dried. Until modern transportation and refrigeration was available, leafy green vegetables and fresh fruits were not available in the winter unless you lived in an area with a year-round temperate climate.

DANDELION (Taraxacum officinale) is an easily recognized spring herb, often used in the creation of Spring Tonics. This common plant contains large quantities of vitamins and minerals including Vitamin C, A, B1 and B2, 1 iron, potassium, magnesium, calcium and phosphorus. The young leaves are not bitter and can be eaten raw in salads or cooked. The dried flowers can be used like Saffron, strong tea made from the dried root or fresh, young leaves can help relieve constipation and water retention.

Dandelion has antibacterial properties which allow it to be used to help with dysentery, pneumonia and staph infections. The fresh sap has long been used to soften corns, calluses and remove warts, while a strong tea made from the dried root can be used to treat acne and eczema. Dandelion leaves can be added to compost piles to improve the breakdown of materials, a reddish brown dye can be obtained by boiling peeled, fresh roots in water.

CREEPING CHARLIE - (Glechoma bederace) sometimes called Ground Ivy or Gill Over the Ground, which is eaten much like spinach both fresh and cooked. This ground covering plant is also combined with hops to help clarify beer and impart a unique flavor. Creeping Charlie has been a staple in spring tonics as it helps with digestion, improves appetite and stimulates the circulatory system. Creeping Charlie can be dried for later use and is often combined with other herbs for relieving coughs, colds and flu like symptoms.

PLANTAIN - (Plantago major and minor) when added to a salad or cooked with some of the other first herbs of spring provides fiber and nutrients. Plantain leaves are astringent and can be used to take the sting out of insect bites and used as a poultice.

WILD VIOLETS - As one of the first herbs of spring, Wild Violets (Viola odorata) have edible flower petals and young leaves. However, the leaves become fibrous as they age, and the flower petals must be plucked individually. The leaves will thicken broths and soup and the flower petals can be made into jelly. Despite the hostile take-over that these beauties strive for, they are also a host for our state butterfly the Diana.

REDBUD TREE - Food that is colorful and appealing improves the appetite and adding edible flowers to salads and cooked greens is both healthy and nutritious. The Redbud tree (Cercis canadensis) has a purple-red flower that is sweet and spicy, and high in Vitamin C. Unopened buds can be pickled and used as a garnish or eaten fresh and the flowers can be eaten fresh, added to salads or sprinkled over other vegetable dishes. Tea made from the inner bark of the Redbud tree has been used as an astringent due to the high Vitamin C content and to help reduce fevers.
